TALK ON "INCLUSION IN THE LIGHT OF GEO-POLITICS"

The Department of Psychology organised a seminar on the theme "Inclusion in the light of Geo-politics" moderated by Rev. Fr. Dr. Louie Albert, S. J, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Loyola College and Dean, LIBA. The event took place on the 26th of April, 2022 at Shri Parasmal Chordia Seminar Hall between 2pm and 4pm.

The seminar interrogated questions evoked by the current geo-political crisis and the humanitarian stress through the twin perspective of psycho-social aspects. Drawing inspiration from the tradition of sociology, he explored how geo-epistemic diversity can help combat ethno-nationality. Taking seriously the various developments and insights, this session reflected on how the battleground for contestation and legitimation ruined the inclusive nature. While the core countries focuses on grouping and re-grouping label of pluralism is far from reality. With development induced destruction, exclusivity has become the new normal.

With shrinking humanness, settlement of refugees and migrants has become a sight of contestation. Through our collective pursuit of constructing a truly global world, we have to function as one family as emphasised in "Vasudeva kutambakkam."

Together, lets try to create a world of inclusion with no socio-economic, cultural barriers.

All the psychology students took part in the event and were greatly benefitted by the talk.

FIRST PLACE- Team 22: Sankaranarayanan.D (19B067) from the Department of Commerce (General).

SOCIAL MEDIA

All these Young's, looking for some likes

When they should be out, riding bikes

Don't use social media to impress people

Instead, use social media to impact people

Don't get distracted by followers

Do get inspired by leaders

Think, before you go online

Because it's better to be offline

Every action has equal and opposite reaction

But social media has overreaction

Facebook, Twitter, Instagram are really the same

They all just have a different name
